Traditional Weavers of Guatemala: Their Stories, Their Lives

Deborah Chandler and Teresa Córdon, with photography Joe Coca

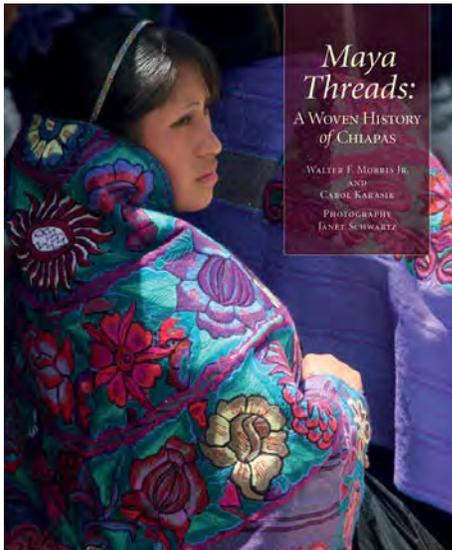

Against the backdrop of Guatemala, this book presents portraits of artisans working in the ancient traditions of the Maya paired with insights into the creation of the textiles and the events that have affected their work. Weaving, spinning, and basket making have sustained the Maya economically and culturally against the pressures of change and a 36-year civil war. Their persistence in continuing traditional art has created some of the loveliest, most colorful textiles the world has ever known. Artisans share their personal histories, hopes, and dreams along with the products of their hands and looms.

Maya Threads: A Woven History of Chiapas

Walter F. Morris, Jr., Carol Karasik, with photography by Janet Schwartz

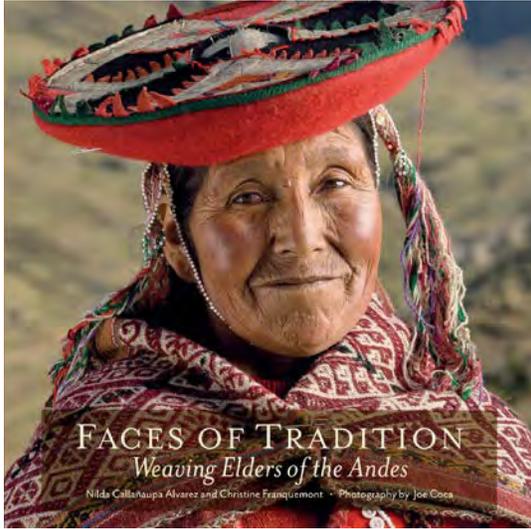

Destined to be the definitive guide to the history, meaning and evolution of Chiapas textiles. Through the pages of this highly-researched book, the world of the Maya lives on through the lens of its culture and costume, still seen today in the state of Chiapas in southern Mexico. In a region battered by centuries of invasions, subjugations, civil wars, and severe economic hardship, the Maya continue to celebrate and sustain their heritage in extraordinary traditional dress and festivals that are both riotous and sacred. Two Maya experts and a photographer painstakingly record the remnants of influence from the Aztecs, Spanish conquistadors, Catholic missionaries, and the unseen gods and spirits that guide Maya culture.

Faces of Tradition: Weaving Elders of the Andes

Nilda Callañaupa Alvarez, Christine Franquemont, Photography by Joe Coca

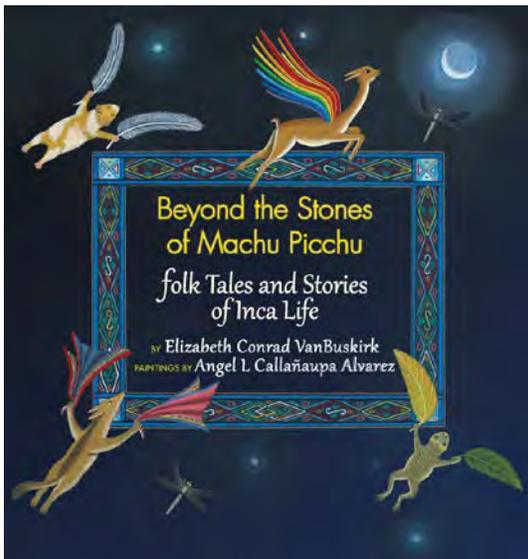

The powerful visual expressions of Joe Coca's photographs introduce dozens of elder weavers and the landscapes that they occupy in the Cusco region of the Peruvian Andes. A revealing cultural study presents personal stories and brings to life decades of endurance, skill, fortitude, and natural pride honed from the time-honored textile traditions of the region and its people. Intimate photographs capture each of the elders, some of whom had never seen a picture of themselves or even looked in a mirror, revealing the life, strength, character, and experience of these men and women.
